ARGININE STUDY

March 03, 2008.

Dear Doctor/Staff:

We at AHRC are conducting a preliminary study on the effects of Arginine on vascular health in Genesee and the surrounding counties population. Research dating back over 30 years has shown that Arginine can convert to nitric oxide and increased nitric oxide helps the entire cardiovascular system (see enclosed information).

To do this study we are using the Digital Pulse Wave Analysis machine, see enclosed information.

Our office is contacting you, to ask if you and one of your office staff, would like to have a complimentary DPA evaluation and review, call for an appointment (about 30 minutes). Also if you might have any patients that would benefit from these FDA approved non-invasive tests, and would like to be in the study.

We are looking for 400-500 persons over the next 3-6 months to begin and complete the study, with conclusions and report to be completed by the first of next year.

The costs for the patients involved (cost is reduced 20-29% over our regular fee structure for this study):

Initial Tests/Supplements:	Regular office fee's	Study reduced fee's (prepaid):
Initial Consultation	$25.00	$15.00
